

COLLOQUES 2012

Mardi

17 janvier 2012

Migrants Health

Prof. Francesco Castelli, MD, FRCP (London), FFTM RCPS (Glasgow)
Full Professor of Medicine (Infectious Diseases)
Director, Department for Mother and Child Care
University of Brescia (Italy)
President, Medicus Mundi Italy

Mardi

31 janvier 2012

Best Practices in Monitoring Socioeconomic Gradients in Population Health : Lessons from Scotland

Prof. John Frank MD, CCFP, MSc, FRCPC, FCAHS,
FFPH Director, Scottish COLLABORATION for Public Health
Research and Policy, MRC Human Genetics Unit, Western
General Hospital, Edinburgh, Scotland

Mardi

7 février 2012

Conflict of Interest: Political Correctness or Serious Problem?

Prof. Richard Smith
Director, UnitedHealth Chronic Disease Initiative, former editor of BMJ and chief executive of BMJ Publishing group, London, United Kingdom

Lundi

13 février 2012

Influenza Vaccine: Does it Protect, and Why is it so Difficult to Answer that Question?

Prof. Arthur Reingold, MD
Chair in Global Public Health and Infectious Diseases
University of California Berkeley School of Public Health, USA

Mardi

14 février 2012

Psychological Factors and Cardiovascular Disease Risk: Epidemiological Evidences

Dr Hermann Nabi, PhD
National Institute for Health and Medical Research (INSERM),
Centre for Research in Epidemiology and Population Health (CESP), Epidemiology of Occupational and Social Determinants of Health Unit, Paris, France

Mardi

21 février 2012

Economics of Public Mental Health : Current Issues

Prof. Martin Knapp
London School of Economics and Political Science
King's College London, Institute of Psychiatry, NIHR School for Social Care Research, United Kingdom

Ces conférences auront lieu de 11h à 12h à la salle de colloques de l'Institut universitaire de médecine sociale et préventive, Bâtiment Biopôle 1 (2^{ème} étage), Rte de la Corniche 2, 1066 Epalinges

Recommandé par Santé Publique Suisse pour la reconnaissance de la formation continue

Les colloques sont publics !

Renseignements auprès de Mme Catherine Turrian (tél. 021 314 72 72)